

Contribution ID: 136

Type: Non-Invited Talk

Physical implications of different CP symmetries of the 2HDM

Tuesday 27 November 2018 16:25 (25 minutes)

In the 2HDM there are various types of CP-symmetries. These symmetries affect the masses and couplings of the model. Such physical implications (exact constraints on masses and couplings) are presented for a CP-conserving 2HDM (potential+vacuum), for a CP-conserving 2HDM-potential (but not vacuum), and for the various degrees of CP-symmetry of the 2HDM-potential (CP1/CP2/CP3).

Content of the contribution

Theory

Author: OGREID, Odd Magne (Western Norway University of Applied Sciences)

Presenter: OGREID, Odd Magne (Western Norway University of Applied Sciences)

Session Classification: Discrete symmetries and models of flavour mixing

Track Classification: [5] Discrete symmetries and models of flavour mixing