

Massive black hole binaries in the cosmos

Wednesday 13 November 2019 12:00 (15 minutes)

I will outline our current understanding on how massive black holes, routinely found in galaxy centers, form in galaxies in the first billion years of the Universe and how they form binaries, eventually coalescing emitting gravitational waves in the frequency range observable by LISA and PTAs.

Author: VOLONTERI, Marta

Presenter: VOLONTERI, Marta

Session Classification: Short talks