

String Phenomenology and Gravitational Waves

Monday 7 July 2025 09:30 (30 minutes)

An overview will be given about the importance of gravitational waves to search for future ways of comparing string theory to observations. In particular the spectrum of gravitational waves produced in the Hagedorn phase will be highlighted as well as the recent progress on the search for high frequency gravitational waves.

Presenter: QUEVEDO, Fernando