

Report on activities in C18

At the end of 2024, C18 decided to welcome a new associate member: the Association of Women in Mathematical Physics (AWMP <https://awmp-mathphys.org/>). Our only other associated member is the International Association of Mathematical Physics (IAMP). They organize the International Congress of Mathematical Physics (ICMP) on a 3-year basis, which is the venue where the Young Scientist Prize in C18 is awarded. The last prizes were awarded at ICMP in Strasbourg in 2024 to Bossmann, Liu, and Young.

There were no new applications for conference funding in 2025. There was an approved application last year for QMATH16, which took place in September with 300 participants.
