ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The biennial TXRF conference is a forum for experts and users of TXRF and related techniques. Its scope is to jointly present and discuss recent advances, the latest research and new perspectives in the different fields of TXRF, from fundamentals to applications. As in previous editions, TXRF 2027 will bring together scientists, end-users and manufacturers, offering an excellent platform for networking and knowledge exchange.

The first TXRF conference was held in Geesthacht, Germany, in 1986; since then it has taken place every two years in countries around the world.
