

Contribution ID: 833

Type: Invited Speaker / Conférencier invité

QCD and the XYZs

Thursday 18 June 2015 09:30 (30 minutes)

Many of the charmonium-like XYZ resonances observed by Belle, Babar, CLEO and BESIII collaborations in the past decade are difficult to interpret as conventional quark-antiquark mesons. After a brief review of the XYZ resonances, theoretical scenarios for these states will be presented with an emphasis on results from QCD sum-rule methods.

Author: STEELE, Tom (U of Saskatchewan)

Co-authors: ZHU, Shi-Lin (Peking University); CHEN, Wei (U of Saskatchewan)

Presenter: STEELE, Tom (U of Saskatchewan)

Session Classification: R1-7 Hadronic Structure (DNP-DTP) / Structure hadronique (DPN-DPT)

Track Classification: Theoretical Physics / Physique théorique (DTP-DPT)