Trends in Publishing – Discussion hosted by the Canadian Journal of Physics

Monday 27 May 2024 12:00 (1 hour)

Join the Canadian Journal of Physics team (including Editors-in-Chief Robert Mann (UWaterloo) and Marco Merkli (MUN), and Journal Development Specialist Jocelyn Sinclairr) to discuss current trends and horizons in academic publishing. This workshop will touch on current trends and horizons in academic publishing, including in peer review, open science and open access, research integrity and ethical publishing standards. Open discussion to follow, please pre-purchase (through Congress registration) or bring your lunch!

At CAP 2023, the Canadian Journal of Physics hosted a discussion around Open Access and its current and future impacts on publishing in physics. You can read a summary of the information presented and the following discussion in the attached document.
