

CHALLENGES IN TESTING AND VALIDATION OF SPACE DEBRIS DEMISE.

Olivier Chazot

Von Karman Institute

The presentation will introduce the testing in high-enthalpy and plasma facilities and the specific configurations they required. It will also address the measurements, data processing and flight extrapolation for database establishment and design consideration. Finally the research activities for the validation of D4D tools will be discussed in the context of Clean Space program.