

Contribution ID: 113

Type: not specified

Dark energy as guideline

Tuesday 26 July 2022 11:00 (18 minutes)

One of the most basic open questions in cosmology is if dark energy is associated just with a cosmological constant or with something more involved. In this contribution, we emphasize that dark energy can be taken as constant under very general assumptions. Following this line of reasoning, we define the vacuum frame and discuss cosmological evolution from this new point of view.

Author: Prof. CEMBRANOS, Jose A. R. Cembranos (Universidad Complutense de Madrid & IPARCOS-UCM)

Presenter: Prof. CEMBRANOS, Jose A. R. Cembranos (Universidad Complutense de Madrid & IPARCOS-UCM)

Session Classification: Parallel Session D

Track Classification: Cosmology