

Is there a lepton collider in your future?

I am interested in (choose as many as you like)

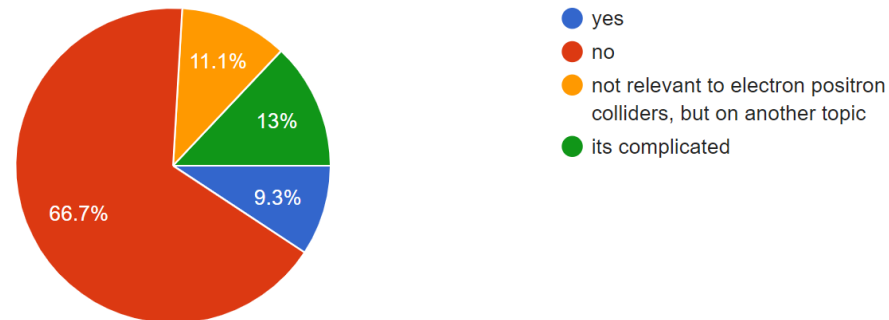

53 responses

Are you already actively involved in a snowmass EOI or project related to electron-positron colliders

54 responses

Ground rules

- Absolutely no advocating for any particular project here. You'll have plenty of time to do that later.
  - Speak bluntly. Say what need in order to engage. This is no time to be polite.
  - If you are part of the snowmass management or have been working in future colliders for a while, this is a time to listen. I will try to keep my mouth shut as well (which will be hard 😊 ).
-
- Why is there so little involvement from the US collider experimental community in the snowmass process, even though there seems to be strong interest in a future electron positron collider (see poll result below)
  - What would help you personally to get involved?
  - What does the US collider experiment community need, not just to participate in future collider efforts, but to play a strong leader role?