Contribution ID: 58

Type: not specified

Precision of Model Predictions and Modular Flavor Symmetries

Tuesday 28 June 2022 11:30 (30 minutes)

I will discuss the precision of predictions in models based on modular flavor symmetries aiming to address the fermion mass and mixing problem. I will describe a framework based on quasi-eclectic modular symmetries and its potential to reduce the theoretical uncertainties of model predictions.

Author: CHEN, Mu-Chun (University of California - Irvine)Presenter: CHEN, Mu-Chun (University of California - Irvine)Session Classification: Morning Session